

Bloomberg LP publishes 2012 Sustainability Report

Bloomberg LP has published its 2012 Sustainability Report, which can be found at www.bloomberg.com/bsustainable.

As the leading provider of data, news and analytics for the business and financial communities, Bloomberg LP looks to facilitate the integration of sustainability considerations into the broader economic conversation through its products and services, operations and philanthropic efforts.

A few highlights:

- To date, Bloomberg has completed over 350 sustainability projects worldwide, resulting in $43 million in net savings and emissions intensity reductions of 30%;
- Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) data is fully integrated on the Bloomberg Professional service and customer use has grown 47.7% annually since 2009;
- In 2012 alone, Bloomberg partnered with more than 185 charities globally and more than 5,000 employees from 83 cities donated 32,000 hours of volunteer service.

Bloomberg's approach to sustainability is intended to be comprehensive, combining corporate citizenship, risk management and strategic opportunity to drive operating costs down and revenue up, with greater adoption across the company and by its customers.

Bloomberg connects influential decision makers to a dynamic network of information, people and ideas. Our strength - quickly and accurately delivering data, news and analytics through innovative technology - is at the core of everything we do. With over 15,000 employees in 192 locations, we deliver business and financial information, news and insight around the world.

Please share your comments at Bsustainable@bloomberg.net.

Source: ReportAlert Announcement

24/07/2013